Buck Consultants International (<http://cs.bciglobal.com/>) is a leading international supply chain and location consulting and implementation firm. BCI has two offices in the Netherlands (Nijmegen, The Hague) complemented with a network of international offices and worldwide partnerships to service our clients across the globe.

Due to growth of the supply chain consulting and implementation practice, BCI is looking for:

Project director supply chain management (m/f)

For many companies the value chain is of crucial importance for success in the market place. BCI develops and implements supply chain strategies on a world-wide basis. Clients include Fortune 2000 companies including Amazon, Johnson & Johnson, ExxonMobil, Samsung, Medtronic, IKEA, ABB, Abercrombie & Fitch, Logitech, Bose, UPS to name a few.

Typical questions our clients ask us for our support are:

- What should be our supply chain strategy?
- What is the optimal production and logistics footprint in terms of number, mission and geographic locations?
- Insource versus outsource?
- What is the go to market model for emerging markets?
- How to implement and making the transition happen

Key in the BCI approach is to add value to our clients by means of providing fact-based analysis, usage of analytics combined with our strong International experience and pragmatic, no nonsense attitude and the ability to implement the proposed recommendations.

The job of project director is to manage and supervise large and complex consulting and implementation projects for our clients as well as coaching of the BCI team both in the project and talent development beyond the project itself.

Tasks of the project director:

- Responsible for managing and execution of large and complex projects
- Project delivery/ project execution in terms of acting as a subject matter expert
